Oppressed Traditional Masculinity

What will that individual who we say is the good guy have to do? He can't introduce himself by saying “hi I'm Joan and I'm so lucky to be with you, you spend 5 minutes with me and I know I'm not attractive and also I'm bland and boring and well....

With that attitude you know, mortus est.... It's true isn't it?

New Alternative Masculinity

On the other hand, if she walks in and says: Hi, I'm Joan and how lucky you are to be with a nice guy, a good person, cultured, attractive, and the more you love me the more I love you.... Well, you are incredibly lucky. I do not say anything, I know that as I give myself and I am a good person you are going to be demotivated, but I already warn you and also in advance that at the first moment that I notice that 1% of demotivation I leave you, not as a friend, but as a safe partner or as a lover or as you want, I leave you because I do not feel like it.

New Alternative Masculinities

“I think one way is to talk about desire as it really is. That is, to talk about how that's what drives the world, love, desire, and to talk about how good sex is with the guys who love you and not the guys who don't care about you. The ones who drive you crazy are those guys, not the ones who ignore you, right?”
